“Leading in Uncertain Times: Operation in the Gray Zone”

This broadcast is sponsored by:

Featuring:

Judy Campbell, President, JC Strategies

Target Audience:

All leaders, managers, and supervisors

Program Overview:

- Leading during uncertainty
- Pressure for results, fewer resources, high compliance and more accountability
- A perfect scenario for a melt down of values...situational ethics

Today's leader needs a process to ensure that he/she executes decisions that are in alignment with company and personal values and laws and policies.

This broadcast will focus on how to exercise good judgment in gray situations.

Presenter, July Campbell, will share practical tips from her work with Fortune 500 companies. Her ideas will help you analyze leadership challenges, develop solutions and create strategic actions to improve performance.

This broadcast will examine the dilemma of this operating environment and provide three skills:

- Assess your personal values
- Clarify what the organization values look like in action
- After you decide, have a decision-making filter to check a decision for poor judgment BEFORE you execute.
